Building Independence

Building Independence helps clients take the next step towards greater independence through new experiences, community involvement and personal progression. Clients are encouraged to explore opportunities across Sheffield, develop self-advocacy skills, build meaningful relationships, and become more active in the world around them, including volunteering and work-based opportunities where appropriate.

Promoting Independence

Promoting Independence encourages clients to take an active role in shaping their day-to-day experiences at Burton Street. Through group activities, community projects and collaborative sessions, clients are supported to make choices, build social connections and become more involved in all aspects of Burton Street life in a welcoming and supportive environment.

Focussed Support

Focussed Support provides tailored activities for clients with more complex communication and support needs, with sessions designed around each individual's interests and abilities. Using sensory activities, music, creativity and communication tools, the department creates calm, engaging spaces where clients can feel comfortable, included and able to express themselves in their own way.

Individual Support

Individual Support provides person-centred, one-to-one support for clients who benefit from a more specialised approach. The department works closely with individuals throughout their time at Burton Street, supporting communication, routines, wellbeing and day-to-day participation, while helping each person feel safe, included and comfortable in their environment.

Complex Needs

Our Complex Needs department provides tailored support for people with more complex learning disabilities and communication needs. Using sensory activities, communication tools, emotional support and creative interventions, the department focuses on helping each person feel calm, understood and included, while supporting wellbeing in a safe and person-centred environment.
